Welcome

The Mental Health Counseling and School Counseling programs at Northern Kentucky University are both accredited by the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). The School Counseling Program at Northern Kentucky University is also accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE).

Students graduating from a CACREP program are assured a quality educational experience. In addition, graduates of CACREP programs can become Nationally Certified Counselors through the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC) once they have passed the National Counselor Examination for Licensure and Certification (NCE).

As part of its 2016 standards, CACREP requires accredited counselor education programs disseminate an annual report to all stakeholders. This report includes, but is not limited to, a summary of program evaluation results, subsequent program modifications, and any other substantial program changes. It includes information on rates of graduation, completion, credentialing, and job placement. The Counseling Program maintains an online dashboard containing the annual report information. Students may access it any time by visiting the following webpage: <https://www.nku.edu/academics/chhs/about/accreditation/cacrep-accreditation.html>

This document is designed as a primary resource to provide supervisors with valuable information about the master's degree programs in counseling at Northern Kentucky University. It details both the expectations for students and the requirements for field placement sites involved in practicum and internship placements.

The purpose of the Professional Practice portion of the Northern Kentucky University Counseling Program is to adequately prepare mental health- and school counselors-in-training to effectively and ethically provide theoretically-based treatment to clients under direct supervision of both university and site supervisors. Counseling program faculty collaborate with both students and site supervisors to promote the development of counselors-in-training and ensure client welfare. Professional practice, which includes practicum and internship, strives to achieve integration of theory into practice, solidify clinical skills, and incorporate students into the profession of counseling. These experiences provide opportunities for students to counsel clients who represent the ethnic and demographic diversity of the Greater Cincinnati area. Practicum and internship applications are due one semester prior to Practicum. What follows is an overview of the Professional Practice portion of the program.

Student Expectations & Responsibilities

- All students are covered by individual professional counseling liability insurance policies while enrolled in practicum and internship. Students must provide proof of coverage before engaging in any counseling-related activities.
- All students must abide by the rules, regulations, ethics, policies, and procedures of the placement site and ethical codes of the profession.
- Students are expected to protect the confidentiality of any case material used within the educational setting by following university and site expectations for obtaining, handling, storing, and disposal of client-related documentation or video recordings.
- Students will be expected to meet and align with the site supervisor's business hours and personnel practices and to respect the confidential nature of client's personal health information and their records.
- Practicum and internship students must produce program-appropriate audio/video recordings with clients for supervision purposes.
- In addition to the development of individual counseling skills, students must lead or co-lead a counseling or psychoeducational group during either the practicum or internship.
- Be on time and prepared for supervision. Seek supervision when uncertain, particularly in the case of urgent or emergency situations that occur on-site.
- Participate in professional opportunities such as staff meetings, consultation groups and/or learning communities, trainings, or other activities to facilitate development as a counselor.
- If applicable, seek and maintain licensure as a counselor trainee.
- All students must wear appropriate professional dress to clinical sites.
- Students must demonstrate professional behavior on site, during individual and group supervision, emails, text and verbal conversations with colleagues, supervisors, etc.

Course Specific Expectations & Responsibilities

Practicum. Students enrolled in the practicum course COU 690: Clinical Mental Health Counseling (CMHC) Practicum or COU 693: School Counseling (SC) Practicum, are expected to complete the following:

Obtain at least 100 hours of professional counseling experience:

- At least 40 of the 100 hours must be in direct service counseling activities with individuals and/or groups – these requirements apply to both CMHC and SC supervisees.
- For SC students: of the 40-direct hours, at least 20 must be completed in an individual counseling setting, while the other 20 can be split between classroom guidance and small group counseling.
- Attend weekly 90 minute group supervision sessions facilitated by a university supervisor.
- Provide meaningful, appropriate, and professional feedback to peers during the group supervision process.
- Attend weekly 60 minute individual or triadic supervision sessions facilitated by a university supervisor.
- Fully engage in the supervision process by being open to exploring their experiences and receptive to constructive feedback.
- Maintain a log of all professional counseling activities conducted during your practicum experience. Students will review their logs with site supervisors weekly and have the logs signed by the site supervisor to verify the completion of appropriate experiences. Signed logs will also be reviewed intermittently throughout the semester by the university supervisor. All signed logs will be submitted to university supervisor for review at the end of the practicum experience.
- Meet regularly with site supervisor, and immediately seek supervision in unusual, urgent, or emergency situations.

- Complete all course-related tasks (such as transcriptions, case presentations, theoretical orientation papers, etc.) as assigned by the university supervisor.

Internship. Students enrolled in COU 691: CMHC Internship or COU 692: SC Internship, will be required to work towards completion of the overarching goals of the internship experience. Internship requires a minimum of two semesters (3 credit hours each) to accrue the required hours and demonstrate baseline skills proficiency.

Students enrolled in internship are expected to complete the following:

Obtain at least 600 hours of professional counseling experience:

- At least 240 of the 600 hours must be in direct service counseling activities with individuals and/or groups – these requirements apply to both CMHC and SC supervisees.
- For CMHC interns, the majority of accrued direct hours must come from supervised activities in the area of diagnosis and treatment of mental and emotional disorders.
- For SC interns, students must gain experience with individual counseling, group counseling, and classroom guidance.
- Weekly 90-minute group supervision facilitated by a university supervisor.
- Provide meaningful, appropriate, and professional feedback to peers during the group supervision process.
- Weekly 60-minute individual or triadic supervision facilitated by a site supervisor. (To the greatest extent possible, supervision should involve one continuous hour per week.)
- Attend individual or triadic supervision sessions facilitated by a university supervisor as deemed necessary by the university supervisor.
- Maintain a log of all professional counseling activities conducted during your internship experience. Students will review their logs with site supervisors weekly and have the logs signed by the site supervisor to verify the completion of appropriate experiences. Signed logs will also be reviewed intermittently throughout the semester by the university supervisor. All signed logs will be submitted to university supervisor for review at the end of the internship experience.
- Complete all course-related tasks (such as transcriptions, case presentations, theoretical orientation papers, etc.) as assigned by the university supervisor.
- Fully engage in the supervision process by being open to exploring their experiences and receptive to constructive feedback.

Expectations for Earning Practicum and Internship Hours During Breaks. Students who wish to continue practicum or internship work during any break (e.g. winter break, Spring Break) will be able to do so only if the following conditions are met:

1. The onsite supervisor agrees to such an arrangement.
2. The subsequent internship experience continues at the same site.
3. The internship supervision ratio of 1 hour of face-to-face individual or triadic supervision and an average of 1 and ½ hours group supervision per week must be maintained.
4. The student agrees to attend all practicum/internship classes scheduled by the university supervisor during the break.
5. Students will keep the site and university supervisor apprised of any ethical, legal or crisis situations during the break.

Site Supervisor Expectations and Responsibilities

Site Supervisor Requirements:

According to the CACREP 2016 Standards (III.C.), to qualify to supervise students, supervisors must possess the following qualifications:

1. A minimum of a master's degree in counseling or a related profession with equivalent qualifications, including appropriate certifications and/or licenses.
2. A minimum of two years of pertinent professional experience in the program area in which the student is enrolled.
3. Knowledge of the program's expectations, requirements, and evaluation procedures for students.
4. Relevant training in counseling supervision.

Site Supervisor Responsibilities:

- Goal-oriented weekly supervision including case conceptualization, tape review, professional identity development, and counseling skills and theory application.
- Site supervisors will directly collaborate with university supervisors and/or the Clinical Director/Program Directors to promote counselor-in-training development and ensure client welfare.
- Site supervisors will provide open, honest, and timely evaluations of counselor-in-trainings' counseling skills and theoretical application.
- Site supervisors will work to create opportunities for learning that allow students to develop competencies listed on the mid-term and final-evaluations.
- Site supervisors will provide students opportunities to become familiar with a variety of professional activities and resources, including technological resources, staff meetings, and additional trainings, during their practicum and internship.
- Supervisors are required to evaluate the supervisee at the mid-term point of each semester and at the conclusion of each semester in order to assess the student's counseling performance and ability to integrate and apply knowledge (see Appendix E, Appendix F).

Placement Procedures for Practicum and Internship

Decisions about clinical placements will be made by the Clinical Director/Program Directors based on the following considerations: (a) the training needs of the counseling student, (b) the student's availability for a clinical site, and (c) the availability and strengths of on-site supervisors. NKU has already developed a number of collaborative relationships with schools and community counseling sites in the tri-state area, which serve as the primary placements for students in the school and clinical mental health counseling programs. If a student requests to be placed at a field placement site with whom the Counseling Program does not have a previously established relationship, the Program Directors will evaluate whether such an agency complies with both programmatic and accreditation (i.e., CACREP) standards.

Additional policies apply to counseling students who are already employed at a school or agency. School counseling students who are employed as teachers must complete practicum and internship experiences outside the student population with whom they currently work. Such school counseling students may not provide counseling services to children they currently teach, but may be permitted to accrue direct contact hours working with children from other classrooms at their schools. Ideally, school counseling students will complete all required internship experiences outside of their home school. To accommodate this policy, such students may be permitted to complete part-time internships that span over 2-3 semesters. Likewise, students enrolled in the clinical mental health counseling program will not be allowed to accrue practicum or internship hours providing counseling service to the clients with whom they work as part of their job (e.g., case managers). We may allow such students to complete an internship at their employing agency, but it must be clear that such students are providing mental health counseling services and that such services go above and beyond their regular employment responsibilities.

Interview Procedures

Although the Clinical Director/Program Directors will assist students in locating an appropriate clinical placement, field placement sites will have the final decision about placement confirmation. After being referred to a placement site by the Clinical Director/Program Directors, a student must contact the potential site supervisor to request an interview. A student should dress professionally and bring resumes to the interview.

Placement Changes Procedures

Changes in placement are rare due to the limited number of available sites for both school counseling and clinical mental health counseling students. Additionally, it is important to maintain positive relationships with community agency and school partners. It is the responsibility of the Clinical Director/Program Directors to determine if a change needs to be made. Placement change requests should only be made following a thorough investigation of the circumstances at hand and clear attempts to resolve issues. Students are not permitted to make placement decisions, plans, or site contact prior to approval from the Clinical Director.

Progression Requirements

Students in the counseling program are expected to conduct themselves in an ethical, responsible, and professional manner. To this end, they are expected to adhere to the standards of professional ethics and practice set forth by the American Counseling Association (ACA) and/or the American School Counselor Association.

In addition to overseeing academic and ethical adherence, supervisors are asked to monitor personal and interpersonal dynamics that may affect students' performance as counseling professionals. The purpose of this monitoring process is to ensure all graduates of the Northern Kentucky University Counseling Program are not experiencing personal and interpersonal characteristics that interfere with their professionalism or helping capacity.

As future professional counselors, the faculty expects students to exhibit the following personal and interpersonal dispositional characteristics (Professional Performance Standards) throughout their time in the program:

- Openness to new ideas
- Flexibility
- Cooperativeness with others
- Willingness to accept and use feedback
- Awareness of own impact on others
- Ability to deal with conflict
- Ability to accept personal responsibility
- Ability to express feelings effectively and appropriately
- Attention to ethical and legal considerations
- Initiative and motivation

Supervisors will evaluate each student on the above areas on the midterm and final evaluations. Each Professional Performance Standard will be rated as "Does not Meet Expectations," "Meets Expectations," or "Exceeds Expectations" as described in the Criteria for Professional Performance Standards Evaluation (see Appendix H). Students receiving a rating "Does not Meet Expectations" on one or more of the Professional Performance standards will be considered deficient in professional performance and may be subject to Student Remediation.

Grading

- Practicum and Internship are graded using letter grades according the NKU grading scale.
- Grades will be entered by university faculty, who may consult with site supervisors on each student's level of development
- The faculty regards its gatekeeping role as one of the most important responsibilities they possess, thus students will not earn passing grades if they are engaged in unprofessional, unethical, or otherwise problematic behavior.
- Students are required to have a grade of B minus or better to successfully complete any professional placement experience. A student who fails to earn a grade at or above a B minus will need to repeat the course.

Repeating Practicum or Internship

- (a) If a site requests an intern be removed from that site, the intern will automatically receive a failing grade for that particular semester. Interns may appeal if the student feels the failing grade is not justified. The appeal must be clear and detail justification for overturning the failing grade. An appeal does not guarantee the grade will be overturned but is part of the due process afforded students.
- (b) If an intern is removed from a site, a placement at an alternate site the following semester is not guaranteed. The Clinical Director/Program Directors places all students at practicum and internship sites. The placement may take time, to the point that an intern may miss a semester in between placements.
- (c) If an intern fails one semester of practicum or internship, the faculty may attempt to place the intern at another site if necessary. Often a professional development plan will be put in place to remediate and support the student so a subsequent failure does not occur.
- (d) If an intern fails two semesters of internship, the intern will be dismissed from the counseling program. The intern can appeal to the faculty to request a third attempt at internship. The appeal must be clear and detail justification for a third opportunity. An appeal does not guarantee an additional opportunity will be granted, but is part of the due process afforded students.
- (e) A student may be required to undertake the professional development plan process at any time during her/his internship experience. The professional development plan may be initiated by the student, the site supervisor, or the university supervisor.
- (f) If a student fails a professional development plan, the student is dismissed from the program. The dismissed student may appeal to the faculty to request a second attempt at completing the Professional Development Plan. The appeal must be clear and detail justification for a second attempt at completing a Professional Development Plan. An appeal does not guarantee an additional opportunity will be granted, but is part of the due process afforded students.

Practicum or Internship Student Remediation Procedures

The counseling faculty is dedicated to producing legal, ethical, and professional counselors. Students are evaluated throughout the counseling program. Rarely, a student might perform in the practicum or internship experience in ways that raise red flags for the site supervisor and/or the university supervisor. If one of the counseling program's students exhibits behaviors or skills that are in any way unprofessional or unethical, or in any other manner which raises unusual concerns for the site supervisor, the university supervisor and/or the Clinical Director/Program Directors will intervene immediately.

Counseling students who in some way do not meet the expectation for professional practice will be remediated using professional development plans (PDPs). The counseling faculty implement PDPs as needed to document and address: (a) expectations of the student, (b) specific behaviors required of the student, both on campus and at practicum/internship sites, (c) remediation tasks that faculty will implement to support the student's success, as well as tasks that the student must engage in to facilitate her/his success, and (d) consequences the student faces for not successfully addressing the expected tasks and engaging in the required behaviors.

The remediation process can be detailed in the following steps:

- (a) A faculty member identifies areas of concern regarding a student's academic or professional behavior or tasks. These concerns will be separate from "normal" developmental progression of students or typical academic issues. The faculty member will identify specific behavior(s) that are problematic academically or professionally, and connect those behaviors to competencies expected of students.
- (b) Faculty will then list specific remediation activities related to each task or behavior of concern.
- (c) Students will be an active participant in this process, and receive formative feedback from a specific faculty member (usually their advisor) to integrate into their behavior to remedy the areas of concern.
- (d) The student has an opportunity to review the PDP, clarify issues, ask questions, and bring concerns to the faculty prior to signing the document agreeing to the PDP.
- (e) In addition to the opportunity to review the document, the student has an opportunity to appeal the document with a written petition to the faculty outlining the reasons for the appeal.

Once a remediation process has begun, the successful completion of a PDP is needed to advance within the program. The faculty may allow certain courses to be completed concurrently with the PDP. However, certain ethical or legal violations, such as Prison Rape Elimination Act (PREA) violations, may grounds for immediate dismissal from the program, and the remediation process and PDPs may be superseded in these cases.

Clear communication between site and university supervisors is needed to ensure the program graduates professional and ethical counselors. Site supervisors are encouraged to contact the university supervisor and/or Clinical Director/Program Directors to clarify or establish any necessary communication processes currently not in place. The program welcomes the input of our partners and consistently attempts to be responsive to the needs of our community partners. Any feedback or input from site supervisor's or internship students regarding the internship training process or intern remediation process is welcomed.

Sexual Misconduct

A counselor-in-training who is dismissed from a site on the basis of admitted and/or documented evidence of sexual misconduct with a minor at their practicum/internship experience site will have a report of that misconduct become part of their permanent record file. In accordance with the Kentucky Revised Code, such misconduct shall immediately be reported to the local police agency for investigation. The counselor-in-training shall be denied a new practicum/internship placement pending the results of the investigation.

Sexual Harassment by the Counselor-in-Training

Sexual Harassment will not be condoned. Unwelcomed sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment.

A report of sexual harassment at a practicum and internship site will be fully investigated and appropriate action will be taken if the report is found to be true and accurate. This may include, but is not limited to, removal from the field site for the remainder of the semester.

Sexual Harassment by Counselor-in-Training's clients or site personnel

Counselors-in-training have the right to be treated with respect and work in an environment that is positive, free from harassment, and safe.

If a counselor-in-training hears inappropriate phrases or sees inappropriate gestures, or feels that there are unwelcomed sexual advances or requests for sexual behaviors by a client, the counselor-in-training should address the situation immediately (if comfortable) or immediately notify site personnel to help address the situation. Once a report has been made, site personnel will debrief the situation with the student to determine what steps need to be taken to ensure the situation does not occur again. Additionally, the counselor-in-training will need to report the incident to the Clinical Director/Program Director.

If a counselor-in-training hears inappropriate phrases or sees inappropriate gestures, or feels that there are unwelcomed sexual advances or requests for sexual behaviors by site personnel, the counselor-in-training should immediately notify the site supervisor and the Clinical Director/Program Director. If the incident is by the direct supervisor, the counselor-in-training should immediately report the incident to the Clinical Director/Program Director.

Appendix D – Informed Consent for Video Recording

Informed Consent for Video Recording

One basis for the provision of quality service is using videotaping that permits counselors-in-training (CITs) to be supervised by a professional supervisor. This allows supervisors to monitor progress and help CITs to plan for future sessions. Video recordings are considered part of the educational process not otherwise available to the CIT and not part of any official client record. In addition to on-site supervision, CITs are receiving supervision from a faculty member at Northern Kentucky University. Counselors-in-training attend supervision class on campus as well. All instruction and discussion in supervision is confidential, anonymous and focused on improving CIT performance.

Counseling sessions are considered confidential. This means that no information will be released to persons or agencies regarding the fact that you are receiving counseling, nor the nature of your concerns without your written consent. Video recordings are also considered confidential and will only be used for assisting counselors-in-training to increase their skills; tapes will be erased on or before the time you terminate counseling.

Danger to self or others (i.e., suicide or homicide) may necessitate breaking confidentiality. In addition, all counselors are legally mandated in the states of Indiana, Kentucky, and Ohio to report suspected child, protected adult, and/or elder abuse or neglect.

I _____ certify that I am at least 18 years old, or if under 18, that this consent is also signed by my parent or guardian. I have been informed about the limits to the confidential nature of counseling and my consent is given as a free and voluntary act.
