Character and fitness is an important requirement for admission to both law school and the state bar where you wish to practice. The application process for both requires you to provide detailed information about your past. Failure to disclose conduct relating to character and fitness could result in revocation of your admission to the College, revocation of a scholarship offer, or a state's refusal to admit you to practice law.

Applicants seeking admission to a state bar are held to a high ethical standard and character, fitness, and other qualifications issues will be considered by all states. We encourage you to determine what those requirements are in the state(s) in which you intend to practice. The requirements can be accessed through the National Conference of Bar Examiners' website at <http://www.ncbex.org/>

Please respond to the following questions and keep in mind that complete candor is an indication of good character and fitness to practice law. If you answer "yes" to any question below, you must provide a detailed explanation, including dates, on a separate sheet.

1. Have you ever been arrested, charged with, or convicted of any crime, or military offense? (This includes felonies, misdemeanors, juvenile offenses, major traffic violations such as driving while intoxicated or impaired, or repeated moving violations. Matters that have been expunged, sealed, or subject to a diversion program must still be disclosed.) Yes No
2. Have you ever been a party to or otherwise involved in an incident that resulted in charges or allegations that you committed abuse, neglect or violence against another? Yes No
3. Have you ever been accused of cheating, plagiarism, or any other violation of a student conduct code, or have you ever been placed on probation, suspended, asked to withdraw, or been dismissed from any educational institution for any reason? Yes No
4. Have you ever been charged with fraud, deceit, misrepresentation, forgery or other act of dishonesty in any civil, criminal, administrative, or other proceeding? Yes No
5. Have you ever been disciplined, discharged, or asked to resign from any employment for fraud, deceit, misrepresentation, forgery, dishonesty, or other reason reflecting on your character? Yes No
6. Have you ever filed or been the subject of a petition for bankruptcy, had a credit card revoked, or defaulted on student loans or any line of credit? Yes No
7. Have you ever been subject to disciplinary action by a professional association or state licensing board, or been disqualified as a member of another profession? Yes No

If you checked "Yes" to any of the above questions, you must provide a detailed explanation on a separate sheet.

By checking this box and signing below, I understand that if ultimately enrolled, it is my responsibility to immediately report to the law school if any answer becomes inaccurate or incomplete after submission of this application. This responsibility continues throughout law school.
